RULES

Dealing: All players will receive five cards, starting from the left of the button and they put each card in the front, middle, or back. Each player shows the setting of his/her starting five cards, beginning with the player to the left of the button. Then each player gets one card at a time and continues placing the cards until each player has a Chinese poker hand with three cards in the front, five in the middle, and five in the back.

Scoring: Players compare each of their three sub-hands (front, middle, and back) to each of the other players. One point is awarded to the player who wins each comparison. If a player wins all three against another player, he is awarded three extra points for the scoop.

Bonuses: Extra points are awarded as follows:

Royalties for bottom hand	Royalties for middle hand
Straight: +2	Straight: +4
Flush: +4	Flush: +8
Full House: +6	Full House: +12
Quads: +10	Quads: +20
Straight Flush: +15	Straight Flush: +30
Royal Flush: +25	Royal Flush: +50

Royalties for top hand

66 + 1	222 + 10	JJJ + 19
77 + 2	333 + 11	QQQ + 20
88 + 3	444 + 12	KKK + 21
99 + 3	555 + 13	AAA + 22
TT + 5	666 + 14
JJ + 6	777 + 15
QQ + 7	888 + 16
KK + 8	999 + 17
AA + 9	TTT + 18

Foul hand: A hand is considered fouled if the front is a higher ranking poker hand than the middle or the middle is higher ranking than the back. A fouled hand is considered scooped against a non-fouled hand.

Bonuses only count in non-fouled hands. However, bonuses don't get cancelled out if beaten by an opponent's higher bonus as in regular Chinese poker.

Paying out: If a table is three-handed or four-handed, players pay the player to the left of the button first. In the case of short stacks, chips that are won are separated, and the remaining chips are used for comparing against the remaining players.

For example, if a player has 10 points worth of chips, and he scoops the player to the left of the button, but gets scooped by the next player, he'll get 6 points from the first player, but only have 4 points worth of chips that haven't gotten action. He/she pays off those 4 points, but still has 12 points worth of chips after the hand is over.

If a player busts on hand 6 at one table, but another player busts at hand 5 later in time because the play was slow at this table, the player who busted on hand 6 gets the better place.

Tables will be broken in normal breaking order at the end of a played hand, whenever possible. This may cause players from the broken table to play extra or fewer hands depending on whether their table was faster or slower than the table they get moved to.

Calling the clock: Any player may call the clock after 30 seconds have lapsed. The slow player will be given 30 seconds to act. If no action is taken at that time, the card is placed in the front-most sub-hand that doesn't cause a guaranteed foul.

Final Table: When going from 5 players to 4, a four-handed unofficial final table will be formed.
